

Student Organizations

Last Modified on 12/09/2019 5:43 pm EST

More than one hundred student groups are currently recognized by the University. These groups engage students in social interaction, religious and spiritual development, intellectual inquiry, political activity, advocacy for social and cultural issues, professional awareness and development, community and University service, and general interest. A list of student organizations can be found here.
